The campaign of 1888 will not be fought over again. Though the tarif issue may remain it will not deminate the next Presidential canvass. Other issues more vital to the welfare of the country and the integrity of its institutions are already upon us.

Mr. Cleveland's speech does not indicate that he is yet prepared to grapple with them. It may be that his convictions and his sympathies are not warmly enlisted on what should be the Democratic side. The fetters of a corporation lawyer and the atmosphere of Wall street are not favorable to what Mr. Cleveland calls the "spirit of true Democracy." As time goes on the difference will be more plain between Grover Cleveland, the "Reform Governor" of 1884, and President Cleveland, an attorney-at-law, at the centre of the money power of the country.

him the right man to send on an important mission? He is a "good fellow," tells a good story and is well known about Washington. Is this the best stuff the President or his advisers can find to make a Commissioner out off?

It is plain that the President was not satisfied with the raw material, for as soon as he learned its texture he revoked the appointment of Mr. Tucker. Somebody has blundered badly.

One Woman's Influence.

A lite-sized oil portrait has just been placed in the reception room of the Training School for Nursees attached to the Philadelphia Hospital, otherwise the almshouse hospital. The portrait represents Miss Fisher, the Chief Nursee, who a year ago died in harness, refusing to give up her work until death released.

The readers of the INTELLIGENCES will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarri. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and muous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength, by building up the constitution and assisting nations in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, the False Rumors Arise-Disgru Ufficers at the Bottom of It.

AS TO CABINET DISSENSIONS.

President Harrison is holding pretty firmly to the policy of permitting com-missioned officers of the civil service to hold over until the expiration of their terms. The one answer to the importunate Congressmen who insist upon prompt removals and speedy appointments, is: "Four fears, The terms must expire hefore removal." They have all met with this reply to their urgings, and have come to understand that this policy is to be inflexible. There must be some very good reason to secure a removal before the expiration. This causes dissatisfaction among the candidates who are waiting for the appointments and the Congressmen talk as if dissatisfied whether or not they feel so. Out of this and the disposition of the President to make only such selections for office as are satisfactory to himself, grows all the trambling that is heard about hotel lobbies, and the gossip about disagreement in the Cabinet. By taking the responsibility for appointments upon himself the President relieves his Cabinet officers of a great deal of responsibility. When pressed to make appointments by men who think they have some claim upon them the members of the Cabinet can honestly say that the final sottlement of the matter lies with the President and they must look to him. In this way the President takes upon himself all the "cussing" for delays, etc., and the politicians who are disappointed give it out that the Cabinet officers are as powerless as they are—and as much dissatisfied.
